STEP Utilities Assistance Program

The vision of the Utilities Assistance Program is for individuals and families to learn to manage their own resources, and plan for their futures.

STEP's Utilities Assistance Program works with individuals and families toward solutions for improving their quality of life, alleviating crisis situations, and assisting customers with making informed decisions about their futures.

The Utilities Assistance Program partners with PPL Electric Utilities and with UGI Corporation's subsidiaries, Penn Natural Gas and Central Penn Gas. Qualified customers are offered affordable utility payments through their Customer Assistance Programs (CAPs). CAPs offer a reduced monthly payment as coverage for utility service, cancel a portion of any debt owed to the company, and provide energy education and weatherization services.

STEP's Utilities Assistance Program includes:

- PPL OnTrack Program: Works with households at or below 150% of Federal Poverty Income Guidelines (FPIG) on establishing a fixed, affordable monthly payment plan to pay for electrical usage. The benefit PPL pays is the difference between the actual monthly bill and the OnTrack Payment.
- UGI Customer Assistance Program: Offers an income-based or usage-based payment agreement with potential for shortfall forgiveness to residential customers at or below 150% of the FPIG.
- PPL's Operation HELP: Assists households at or below 200% of the FPIG who are experiencing unexpected hardships with paying utility bills.
- UGI's Operation Share: Provides assistance with paying heating bills to residential customers who are faced with hardship due to an unforeseen situation, and with incomes at or below 200% of the FPIG.

Housing Options

STEP Housing & Building Initiatives

STEP's Housing & Building Initiatives is dedicated to the development and improvement of residential housing, in partnership with families, neighborhoods, and local government.

This program offers residential housing rehabilitation, accessibility, and energy-efficient housing improvements to residents of Lycoming and Clinton counties. Through community collaboration and partnerships with county and local municipal governments, and other nonprofit organizations, the program leverages local, state, and federal housing resources.

The program is income based. Eligible applicants must have a household income below 80% of the area's median income level. Staff members engage eligible homeowners and renters in developing a plan to use identified resources to provide affordable, safe, accessible, and energy-efficient housing improvements. The program utilizes a highly trained staff with demonstrated design and construction management capabilities, and extensive training and field experience in rough and finish carpentry, masonry, plumbing, HVAC, and energy conservation techniques.

Housing & Building Initiatives plays an integral partnership role in housing rehabilitation and strategic and holistic community revitalization plans in both counties, including the Main Street programs, Brownfield Revitalization, PA Wilds, and the Brodart Neighborhood Improvement Project.

STEP Weatherization Assistance Program

STEP's Weatherization Assistance Program (WAP) for Lycoming and Clinton counties, a federally funded program under the Department of Energy (DOE), is designed to help eligible residents reduce their home energy costs. Weatherization measures are performed on houses, apartments, and mobile homes.

After a client is determined to be eligible, an energy auditor visits the home to inspect the heating and water systems, and the dwelling itself. A blower door is used to determine air leakage into the home. The energy auditor reviews information to determine measures that need to be performed.

STEP's Weatherization Assistance Program includes:

- DOE Weatherization Program: Reduces total energy usage through technologies and analysis for households with incomes below 200% of the Federal Poverty Income Guideline (FPIG).
- PPL Weatherization Program (WRAP): Reduces electric usage for PPL customers with incomes below 150% of the FPIG.
- Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP): Provides for winter emergency heating system troubleshooting and replacement for households with incomes below 150% of the FPIG.

Workforce Development

STEP Work Ready Program

STEP's Work Ready Program assists individuals who are referred by the County Assistance Office. The objective of the program is to assist individuals with stabilizing their barriers to success and with developing skills that prepare them for employment.

The program offers successful employment and personal skills development opportunities to help individuals improve their ability to “earn, keep, and grow” a steady family-supporting income.

Once potential employees are armed with important tools and skills, they are prepared to be successfully matched with potential employers. Customers are provided with case management and referred to other services such as skill and behavior assessment, support groups, life skills, GED instruction, counseling, substance abuse treatment, and others. These are services that will help them both attain and retain employment and develop the capacity to earn a life-sustaining income.

Workforce Development

STEP Employment Transportation Assistance Program

STEP's Employment Transportation Assistance Program provides transitional transportation assistance and minimizes barriers that prevent families receiving Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) and other income-eligible persons from being hired in competitive employment and from becoming dependable employees.

The program provides transportation utilizing existing partnerships and coordination structures, including River Valley Transit, STEP's Shared-Ride, Billtown Cab Co., and Lock Haven Taxi, to provide the most cost-effective means of transportation assistance for residents of Lycoming and Clinton counties.

Transitional transportation assistance is available through:

- Bus Passes • Shared-Ride Transportation • Taxi
- Mileage Reimbursement • Child Care Transportation

Customers must provide monthly documentation of employment. In addition, taxi and shared-ride services and mileage reimbursement require the employer to validate that the customer is working the days and hours that are consistent with trips taken.

Participants may receive benefits for a maximum of one year, with a maximum lifetime amount of benefits. Assistance gradually declines as participants achieve longevity in their employment and are able to develop self-sufficient means of transportation. Customers receive case management from STEP staff, who coordinate progress and target a selection of needed services.

Home Delivered Meals

The home-delivered meals program, Meals on Wheels, provides seniors and persons with disabilities with complete, nutritious, home-delivered, noon meals—plus the friendly smile of a delivery volunteer.

Those in our communities, age 60 and older, who are homebound and unable to plan nutritious meals, shop for food, physically prepare their own meals, or travel to their nearest senior center may be eligible for this Office of Aging service. Another stipulation is that they must either live alone or have no one else in the home who can cook at least one hot meal per day. The consumer's impairment may be either short-term or permanent. The STEP Office of Aging caseworkers assess applications for the program and arrange for the service.

Weekday delivery of meals can also serve as a point of contact and safety check that contributes to peace of mind for both consumers and their loved ones.

If you are interested in volunteering to deliver meals, please contact the STEP Office of Aging. Contributing less than two hours per week of your time can make a big difference in the lives of neighbors in need.
